

Release of Liability for Covid-19

As I enter the Mary C building or any of its events or programs, I understand that I am entering a community at the time of the Covid-19 national pandemic, and I do so at my own risk and at the risk of my family members, friends and co-workers in which I come in contact.

Should I contract the Covid-19 virus, whether or not my exposure can be traced to my time at the Mary C building or any of its events or programs, neither I, nor my family, will hold the Mary C responsible or liable in any way for any of the consequences of contracting the virus. This includes liability for medical treatment, or any related aspect of medical treatment, or for the potential non-availability of medical treatment. I further understand that I alone am responsible for my health, safety and well-being as it regards contracting the Covid-19 virus, and accordingly I assume the full risk for any consequences of entering the Mary C building, or attending its events or programs.
